

Learner Instructions for Participating in Learning Studies

The Learning Studies are a required and interactive part of your TOGAF® Enterprise Architecture Practitioner course. They are not practice exams—they are designed to help you understand and apply the TOGAF® Standard to real-world scenarios.

What Are Learning Studies?

- Case-based problems aligned with TOGAF® principles.
- Focus on collaboration, analysis, and justification of your chosen approach.
- No scoring—your goal is to think critically and justify your decisions.

How It Will Be Conducted

You will work in pairs or small groups.

Each group will:

- Read a situation from a case study.
- Evaluate four possible approaches.
- Choose the best approach and explain why.
- Rank the rest in order of correctness.
- Use the tables and notes pages in your Student Workbook to record answers.
- Present your findings to the class for discussion and feedback.

Expectations and Participation

- You must complete a minimum of 10 Learning Studies.
- Your trainer will monitor and record your completion.
- Completion is required to be eligible for the Applied Practitioner Badge.
- You must know your Candidate ID, as it will be needed at the time of your submissions.

Note: To find your Candidate ID, follow these steps:

Visit The Open Group homepage, click login at the top right, and after logging in, select "My Profile" in the top right corner. Your username and Individual ID are displayed there. The Individual ID is your Candidate ID.

Tips for Success

- Work collaboratively.
- Refer to the TOGAF® Standard for guidance.
- Focus on why your selected approach is the best.
- Be open to feedback and discussion.
